The AAGL Annual Meeting Scientific Program
Also called the "Final Program", the Scientific Program is produced for the Global Congress of Minimally Invasive Gynecology that takes place November 12-16, 2017. The Final Program serves as a guidebook for the largest annual congress on minimally invasive therapies in gynecology, and features comprehensive listings of the daily events, including all the PG courses and labs, scientific presentations, exhibit hall hours and activities, industry-sponsored events, and AAGL-sponsored social activities.

The Final Program is distributed to all attendees at the meeting and is the primary repository for the agendas, faculty, descriptions, and learning objectives of all the CME and non-CME sessions; descriptions and listings for all exhibitors; and recognition of all the support received from industry. Advertising in the Final Program is a prime opportunity for exhibiting companies to complement and promote their exhibit space at the meeting, any industry-sponsored symposia, as well as highlight their partnership with the AAGL.
